

General task :

You are a member of the editorial board of The Lakota Times. You have to prepare the front page for thursday 1st february 2024 devoted to the the decision by the Boston Museum of Fine Arts, under NAGPRA, to stop exhibiting some Native American objects. The various items on the front page provide information about the affirmation and recognition of Native American memory since the 80s (American indian ethnic renewal).

The Lakota Times was founded in 1981 as The Lakota Times, a weekly newspaper published on the Pine Ridge reservation. At the time, it was the first independent Amerindian newspaper. It is still one of the newspapers devoted to news from the American Indian communities, along with the Indian Country Today.

Task layout :

- You will work in teams. You will need to divide the work between you to be efficient
- To help you in your research, you will be provided with web resources
- You will choose on the following websites a template to lay out your front page:
<https://thegoodocs.com/freebies/newspaper-templates/> and <https://makemynewspaper.com/templates/free>
- The front page of your newspaper should look like a modern-day one (typography of the newspaper's name, column layout, lead paragraphs)
- Information may come in the form of text (e.g. a short story or an interview), images (e.g. a photograph, drawing or cartoon) or a map. Each image must be titled and captioned. Each article must be titled
- The wording of the headlines, the choice of illustrations and the organisation of your front page must reflect your newspaper's editorial line and its context
